Personnel

The changes in teaching staff were caused by resignations.

Mrs. Helena Bogie resigned and was elected to a teaching position in Exeter.

Miss Hazel Nutting resigned to accept a position in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Dorothy Holton resigned because of health.

The resignation of all of these teachers were regretfully accepted. The board elected as teacher at No. 4 Miss Ruth Ann Patterson, an accelerated junior at Keene Teachers' College whose degree requirements will be met this summer.

Mrs. Harriet Cross was transferred to No. 7 and Miss Elizabeth Thomas, an accelerated junior at Keene Teachers' College whose degree requirements will be met this summer, was elected to the vacancy created at No. 1.

Circumstances permitted the transfer of Miss Mary Valenska of Auburn to No. 2, in place of Mrs. Dorothy Holton.

Mrs. Clara DeStefano, whose resignation as music teacher terminated a period of three years of service was replaced by Miss Ruth Napier of Lowell Teachers' College.

London-derry schools were fortunately able to retain on their staff Mrs. Lottie Bailey, Mrs. Martha Guinesso, Miss Violet Macauley as well as Mrs. Harriett Cross. The return of these experienced teachers, plus the replacements the board was able to obtain have enabled the pupils of London-derry schools to enjoy the benefits of study under capable and efficient teachers.

The situation in regard to teachers is serious. There are fewer trained teachers available and every effort should be made to retain the services of the present staff or in case of resignations to engage trained teachers who can maintain instruction at the highest possible level.

Administration

The board continued the policy of cleaning and repair, so necessary in the maintenance of the physical plant. Morriston, No. 4, No. 1 and No. 8 schools received the major attention during the summer of 1943. The interiors of these schools were reconditioned. The floor at No. 1 was repaired in addition. The windows at No. 4 were weather stripped. All of these repairs created a healthier, more wholesome atmosphere in the schools of the town.

Book replacements and additions included an extension of the basal reading program to include grades 4 and parts of grades 5 and 6, the addition of science readers, replacement of some of the music material and the addition of some new geography material. The policy of continually replacing obsolete books and adding to the supplementary materials available will pay dividends in the educational benefits accruing to the pupils in the town schools.

Despite such restrictions as the war imposed on transportation the board was able to negotiate a contract with Mr. Albert Jobin, and so close No. 9 school in accord with the recommendation of the State Department. The method of transporting has seemingly caused no apparent hardship.

The policy of anticipating shortages in certain type materials has enabled the schools to operate efficiently up to the present. For the most part the schools have not as yet felt the impact of shortages. We can continue to operate for some time with our present type of materials. The W. P. B. however has set up restrictions in connection with the manufacture of paper which make it probable that we shall soon feel the effect of such restrictions in the quality of paper that we can provide.

The schools are participating in the Federal program of milk distribution. The pupils pay a quarter, the school district a quarter and the Dept. of Agriculture one-half of the cost of milk which is provided daily to all pupils who wish to participate.

Budget

The budget shows an increase of overall expenditures of $402.97. There are seven items which show an increase; other expenses of instruction, janitor service, light and janitors' supplies, health supervision, transportation, elementary tuition, and insurance. The increase in other expenses of instruction is only a seeming one since the salary paid for the teaching of handicapped children has been transferred from teachers' salaries to other expenses of instruction. The increase in janitors' salaries is nominal and is in accord with the rate set in determining state aid. Increased cost of supplies is anticipated in the next item to account for the increase. Additional transportation with increased per mile costs accounts for the large increase in transportation. Elementary tuition is an item that varies with the number of pupils. Increased enrollment in outside schools accounts for the increase here. The renewal of insurance policies on buildings is due in November 1944 and accounts for this increase.

Only one item is unaccounted for, health supervision. This has purposefully been left to be the last item. At the meeting of the supervisory union in May a more equitable way of arriving at the salaries of the nurse and music teacher was proposed and adopted. This resulted in an increase of $38.05 for health supervision which was more than counter-balanced by a decrease of $162.42 in the district's share of the music supervisor's salary.

The following items show decreases: teachers' salaries (although the board has increased salaries, the loss of one teacher accounts for this decrease), text books and supplies show decreases, a decrease in pupil enrollment accounts for the $56.06 in these two items. The extensive program of 1943 in the field of repairs allows for the reduction here. The figure for excess salary is determined by the state department and state law determines the per capita tax.

The net change in the budget is $402.97 but this is more apparent than real. The increase in estimated income of $3,840.74 results in a decrease in tax levy of $3,427.77.

The cause for the increase in income is primarily increased state aid. For the year 1942-43 an increase of $1,024.20 enabled the district to show cash on hand of $2,357.76 rather than the estimated $1,000.00 on July 1st, 1943. The action of the legislature in raising the amount of money available for state aid for 1943-44 caused the estimate of March 1943 of $3,296.46 to be in error by $1,290.74. These two facts make it probable that the district will have cash on hand on July 1, 1944, of $3,500.00. Although we have had no notice yet of the amount of state aid to be made available for December 1944 the board feel that they can anticipate in the vicinity of $4,587.20.

Conclusion

The pupils of your schools are receiving instruction from adequately trained teachers who are conscientiously endeavoring to provide each child with adequate preparation for secondary schools. The text books, and equipment are being improved and augmented as funds permit. The physical plants are being maintained and improved. Your elected representatives on the school board are striving earnestly and sincerely to build and maintain a system of schools of which you may be proud and which will render to the children of Londonderry the best educational service possible.

Respectfully submitted,

EVERTON H. PARKINSON,

Superintendent.
